

Dr. Dorothee Alfermann

University of Leipzig, Faculty of Sport and Exercise Science, Leipzig, Germany. University diploma in Psychology (minor: philosophy) in 1971, University of Bonn, Germany. Doctoral Degree (Ph. D.) in 1974, University of Bonn, Germany.

Assistant Professor of Psychology at Teachers' College Aachen, Institute of Psychology (1973-1979); Associate Professor of Sport Science/Sport Psychology at the University of Giessen, Dept. of Sport Science (1979-1994), since 1994 Full Professor of Sport Psychology at the University of Leipzig, Faculty of Sport Science. She has been teaching at University of Innsbruck, Austria and visiting Professor at School of Physical Education, West Virginia University, U.S.

Member of the consortium of an Erasmus Mundus Master program in Sport and Exercise Psychology (EMSEP). Current Research Topics : Social and psychological influences on athletes' careers and career transitions , Cross-cultural comparisons between Asian and German athletes, Effects of sport and exercise on cognitions and on mental health, Career development of young physicians with special emphasis on gender aspects.

She also has been President of the German Society of Sport Science (200-2013) and Vice President of the International Society of Sport Psychology (ISSP) (2001-2005).

Author of more than a hundred Journal Articles and book chapters and reviewed the Ema Geron Award of Fédération Européenne du Psychologie des Sports et des Activités Corporelles (FEPSAC) (2015); former Co-Editor-in-Chief of Psychology of Sport and Exercise (published by Elsevier) (2004-2011).

